

A New Day

Tommy Montgomery

♩ = 76

6 rit. ♩ = 152 4x

11 3x

17

29

35

39

43 1. 2.

47 It be - gan, - with a

52 soft re - frain: - a whis - pered word, - find - ing ea - ger ears.

57

Charmed by love, the seduction preyed on every one,

63

and everything. Lost within this blissful lie they thought it was a gift.

69

Kept a-live with mindless joy, their souls are left to aimlessly drift.

74

76

79

Free your mind.

84

Stay a-live. One last time.

90

Ne - ver die. Don't let the 95

Sun burn out the fi - re in your eyes. You've lived too long to sur - render to these lies. And so the bat - tle ra - ges on 106

101

un - til the day when you're just gone.

111

pentatonic riff (1st ending)

123

128

132

Lost with - in__ this maze of self- de-lu - sion, they can't es - cape

137

_ this mindless in - sti-tu - tion. They've thrown it all a-way_ for righteous in - digna - tion as they're swept a - side and drained of in-spira - tion. Fall - ing_ down__ in - to 150 cognitive dissonance. Find - ing_ truth__ in the 154

141

146

theories of hypocrites. Enslav - ing ev - 'ryone

158

to the de-mons of the day. Human - i - ty revealed,

162

thought can't rise above the fray.

166

172

chorus 11

Don't let the un - til the day_ un - til the day_ un - til the day

187

Un - til a new_ day_ comes.

192

197

201

209

215

219

223

228

232

236

240

244

249

254

257

261 verse 3

Sold to - day for a fu - ture price. To - 266

mor - row comes but there's no re - morse.

270

All the sins that once kept them dry are 274

drown - ing us in their sea of lies.

278

Left a-lone with all their thoughts they can't de-ny the hate. Los-ing all they once held dear but there's still hope that it's ne - ver too late.

283

288

Free your mind.

298

Stay a - live. One last time. Ne-ver die. Don't let the chorus

18

307

comes.

329

334

4x